Dear Mr. Dennis

I am writing in response to your request for information regarding the below received on 12 February. Your request has been handled under Section 1(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000. In accordance with Section 1(1) (a) of the Act I hereby confirm that the CNC/CNPA does hold information of the type specified.

Please can the CNPA/CNC provide details of the one complaint the CNPA has made against Anon Hewitt or UKAEA in respect of the administration of the Combined Pension Scheme. (Your reference 2015 - 191 refers to the one complaint made)

The CNC's contribution to the scheme makes up a significant part of the overall scheme fund and we expect a service which reflects this relativity.

The one complaint was regarding the standard in generating calculations for pensions that is set at 10 days turnaround. The CNC had two cases where the calculations were requested and the turnaround exceeded these standards.

The first element of this complaint relates to final statements for employees who were withdrawn from decommissioned sites and tendered notice of redundancy.

The second element relates to quotations requested for five staff.

In accordance with Section 1(1) (a) of the Act I hereby confirm that the CNC/CNPA does not hold information of the type specified.

A meeting was held between the CNC and Aon Hewitt, however, no formal record of this meeting was taken.

The Civil Nuclear Constabulary is a specialist armed police service dedicated to the civil nuclear industry, with Operational Policing Units based at 11 civil nuclear sites in England, Scotland and Wales and over 1400 police officers and staff. The Constabulary headquarters is at Culham in Oxfordshire. The civil nuclear industry forms part of the UK's critical national infrastructure and the role of the Constabulary contribute to the overall framework of national security.

The purpose of the Constabulary is to protect licensed civil nuclear sites and to safeguard nuclear material in transit. The Constabulary works in partnership with the appropriate Home Office Police Force or Police Scotland at each site. Policing services required at each site are agreed with nuclear operators in accordance with the Nuclear Industries Security Regulations 2003 and ratified by the UK regulator, the Office for Nuclear Regulation (ONR). Armed policing services are required at most civil nuclear sites in the United Kingdom. The majority of officers in the Constabulary are Authorised Firearms Officers.

The Constabulary is recognised by the National Police Chiefs' Council (NPCC) and the Association of Chief Police Officers in Scotland (ACPOS). Through the National Coordinated Policing Protocol, the Constabulary has established memorandums of understanding with the local police forces at all 11 Operational Policing Units. Mutual support and assistance enable the Constabulary to maintain focus on its core role.

We take our responsibilities under the Freedom of Information Act seriously but, if you feel your request has not been properly handled or you are otherwise dissatisfied with the outcome of your request, you have the right to complain. We will investigate the matter and endeavour to reply within 3 – 6 weeks. You should write in the first instance to:
